The "Man on the Monument" in the center of the Urbana roundabout is a bronze sculpture depicting a dismounted Union cavalry officer facing north with his head bowed for fallen comrades. The monument is a salute to Champaign County's contributions in the Civil War. The front of the monument reads, "In memory of those brave men of Champaign County who died in the war to save the Union, 1861-1865." The monument was dedicated in December of 1871.

WHAT IS THE GUIDE TO CHAMPAIGN COUNTY?

The annual Guide to Champaign County is a directory of professional service providers and non-profit organizations and government entities.

The Guide is intended to be a “welcome” publication for newcomers to Champaign County and also a single source publication for the county’s established residents to refer to throughout the year.

Much of the Guide is updated each year by the Urbana Daily Citizen, which solicits new and updated information for listings with the goal of making them as accurate as possible.

The Champaign County Chamber of Commerce assists with the Guide, compiling and providing the Calendar of Events. Changes to the calendar after Feb. 1 are not included due to press deadlines for the Guide.

Whether a newcomer or a longtime Champaign County resident, the Guide is meant to provide a concise source of listings and useful information. It’s the only “Guide to Champaign County”!
